Whether it’s six feet or 6,000 miles apart, the distance doesn’t matter. This place has given us a connection, common ground, and community that’s stronger than the separation. There is no doubt Homecoming and Family Weekend will look different than it ever has before, but the purpose will remain the same – celebrating what unites us as Rams!

Use this spirit pack to make the most of your October 1-3. See below for a schedule of virtual events and engagement opportunities, and visit homecoming.colostate.edu for details.

CSU SPIRIT DAY
SATURDAY, OCT. 3

S - P - I - R - I - T
That’s what Homecoming is all about! It’s more than a football game. It’s more than a bonfire. It’s more than a parade, or fireworks, or a festival.

Homecoming is decades of alumni changing the world. Homecoming is Ram Pride. Homecoming is tradition. Homecoming is celebrating what unites us, regardless of where we are. The green and gold is woven into the fabric of who we are...AND WE ARE RAMS!

Help us celebrate what that means, Saturday, Oct. 3. Reminisce about your time on campus, relive Homecomings from years’ past, and reimagine Homecoming as we know it!

How to Draw CAM THE RAM

Step 1
First, draw his head with a keyhole-shape.

Step 2
Add in eyes by drawing slight spirals, two nostril lines, and a mouth by drawing a squiggle.

Step 3
Next, draw his ears by creating two almond shapes, then adding a line for his ear fold.

For a video tutorial on how to draw CAM the Ram, visit homecoming.colostate.edu.
Step 4

After that, create his horns by first drawing a spiral 6 shape on his left side. Create the fluting of his horns by drawing a curved line from the inner tip of the spiral to the bottom of the 6, and another curve starting from just above his ears and drawing up and to the side. Mirror that on his right side.

Step 5

Finally, draw his neck and blanket

Step 6

Color him in!!
